

EMPLOI-QUÉBEC

Are you under 18 and at least 20 weeks pregnant?
Are you without financial resources? Do you know about the Pregnant Minor Financial Assistance Program?

You could be eligible for monthly financial assistance from the Ministère de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale during the pregnancy up until the birth of your child.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible, you must meet certain conditions, including the following:

- participate in the Soutien aux jeunes parents program, administered by the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux;
- not be living with your parents or with someone who has custody of you under a court judgment or sponsorship agreement;
- not be living in accommodation covered by the Act respecting health services and social services such as a rehabilitation centre or family-type resource (foster families and foster homes);
- be referred to Emploi-Québec by a CLSC.

TO APPLY

To apply, go to your local employment centre (CLE). You must bring your CLSC follow-up sheet (fiche de suivi), available from your CLSC caseworker.

NOTE

The amount of financial assistance provided depends on your circumstances (for example, whether you live in accommodation managed by a non-profit organization that also provides your meals). The assistance may also be reduced if you receive income during the pregnancy.
